

Black Tern

Numbers of this tern have declined across the continent and it is recognized in some states as Endangered or a species of high concern. One cause is likely loss of wetlands, where this bird nests.

Take Action

Support the protection of wetlands by contributing to conservation organizations and promoting wetland protection in your community.

Year ^{of} the Bird

World Migratory Bird Day

©DickDaniels

Environment
for the Americas

www.migratorybirdday.org

#BIRDDAY