

CANADA WARBLER

Little is known about this rare warbler species.

GREATEST THREAT

Canada Warblers are threatened by rapid deforestation in their tropical wintering grounds, as well as the loss of spruce-hardwood forests in Canada and Maine.

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

Support sustainable forestry practices, purchase recycled paper products, and recycle at home.

Canada's Endangered Species at Risk Act lists Canada Warbler as Threatened and works to protect the country's wildlife and plants.
